

ENERGY AUDITOR DUBLIN, IRELAND

OVERVIEW

Our client is on a mission to make buildings smarter across Ireland & the UK. Using the latest cloud technology to improve, create & manage WiFi networks that simply work. They have been designing, improving and managing WiFi networks for over 17 years across Ireland & the UK.

Driven by customers needs, the boundaries of software are constantly being pushed. Buildings made smarter through wireless networking, IoT, & Energy Solutions.

We are looking for an Energy Auditor to join a growing field services team, to conduct both walkthrough audits & desk-based energy audits to help customers reduce Carbon Emissions and implement Intelligent Building Solutions. Customers include Schools, Hotels, Offices & Government buildings all across Ireland & UK.

If you're a customer driven, hands-on, tech savvy, solutions builder. If you enjoy travelling and working on your own initiative, then this could be the position for you.

RESPONSIBILITIES

1. Qualify: working closely with sales functions to help qualify the client's needs by analysing utility bills and completing HVAC and metering surveys. This is often delivered by video calls with stakeholders, so you will need to be a clear and confident communicator.
2. Audit: clients want to identify & unlock potential energy savings and calculate the resulting carbon reduction. Using an audit process, you must have good attention to detail and be able to build the client's confidence as they start their carbon reduction journey. Buildings are also assessed for suitability for the autonomous HVAC solution.
3. Specification: working directly with the internal team and external partners you will help specify the best products and solutions to maximise energy savings.
4. Audit Report: you will help create the client report that demonstrates what they can do, the investment costs & paybacks, providing a unique road map.
5. Supporting 24/7 Monitoring Team: offering Level 2 Support and insights into building performance issues as required.
